2. Claims 1-23 have been amended (paper #14).
3. Claims 24-27 have been cancelled (paper #16).
4. Claims 1-23 have been examined.
5. The rejections of claims 1-23 have been updated to reflect the amended limitations.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 24-27 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Specification

8. The Examiner thanks the Applicant for supplying a revised specification. The objection to the specification is hereby withdrawn.

Previous Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

9. Claims 1-23 were rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The Examiner thanks the Applicant for amending the claim language, and hereby rescinds the rejections under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

11. Claims 1-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rosen (US 5,671,280 A) in view of Mao (US 6,119,227 A).

Claims 1, 2, 12, and 14:

Rosen, as shown, discloses the following:

- said merchant agent receiving an order of goods/service from said customer agent (Figure 2b and associated text).
- a customer account manager receiving an initiation message sent from said customer agent, said message including data for registration of said customer agent, and order information (Figure 1 and associated text).

- said customer account manager providing said customer agent with account data during a trading session being established between said customer agent and said merchant agent over the network (Figure 4 and associated text).
- said customer account manager amending and forwarding said initiation message to said mediating trusted agent for registration of said customer (Figures 5a-5d and associated text).
- said customer account manager delivering a deposit to said mediating trusted (Figure 6 and associated text).
- said mediating trusted agent sending an information message including said deposit to said merchant agent (Figure 6 and associated text); and
- when the value of at least one purchase equals or exceeds the value of the deposit, or by instructions from said customer agent or merchant agent, stopping the trading session (Figures 7a and 7b and associated text).
- a plurality of purchase orders is executed within limit of said deposit (Figures 7a and 7b and associated text).

Rosen does not disclose the use of a trusted intermediary. Mao, however, in Figure 2 and associated text discloses a trusted intermediary during a financial transaction. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine Rosen's payment system with Mao's trusted intermediary because this provides a higher level of protection and security to protect against fraudulent conduct.

Claims 3 and 15:

With regard to the limitation of said initiation message includes an amount of the deposit, a transaction identity, the identity of the merchant and the identity of the merchant's operator for locating a proper mediating trusted agent, see Figure 3 and associated text.

Claims 4, 5, 16, and 17:

With regard to the limitations of:

- said amended initiation message includes the deposit in the customer currency, a customer identifier, said transaction identity, and the identity of the merchant.
- said information message includes the deposit in the currency of the merchant, a trading session identity, and said customer identifier.

See at least Figure 3 and associated text.

Claims 6, 7, 18, and 19:

With regard to the limitations of:

- after the step of said mediating trusted agent sends an information message, said merchant acknowledges the customer and the associated deposit to said mediating trusted agent.

- said mediating trusted agent acknowledging the customer and the associated deposit to said customer account manager.

See at least Figure 1 and associated text.

Claims 8 and 20:

Rosen discloses the electronic commercial payment system as shown above. Rosen does not specifically state that said acknowledging including the current exchange rate and that said customer account manager forwarding said exchange rate to the customer agent. However, Examiner takes Official Notice that it is old and well known in the payment systems arts to account for exchange rates between various countries around the world. Credit card institutions that provide credit services internationally automatically account for exchange rates when a purchase is made outside the consumer's country of origin.

Claims 9 and 21:

Rosen discloses the electronic commercial payment system as shown above. Rosen does not specifically state that said customer account manager amending and forwarding said initiation message to said mediating trusted agent includes vouching for the customer. However, Examiner takes Official Notice that it is old and well known in the payment systems arts to provide for positive identification of a current consumer based on a consumer's good reputation within their own financial community. Lines of credit can quickly be afforded or extended to customers of known and good standing.

Claims 10 and 22:

With regard to the limitation of stopping the trading session includes said merchant agent receiving a trading session terminate message sent by said customer agent or a timeout, see figure 7b.

Claims 11 and 23:

- said customer account manager sending a customer transaction record to said mediating trusted agent;
- said merchant agent sending a merchant transaction record to the mediating trusted agent;
- said mediating trusted agent comparing and evaluating said transaction records, resulting in clearing information;
- said mediating trusted agent sending said clearing information to said customer account manager and a merchant account manager,
- said customer account manager and a merchant account manager respectively sending said clearing information to said customer and said merchant, and based on said clearing information, processing said transaction records to a withdrawal record and a deposit record, respectively, storing the transaction records, and sending said withdrawal record to a customer billing system and said deposit record to a merchant billing system, respectively.

See at least Figures 1-5 and associated text.

Claim 13:

With regard to the limitation of said account manager and said mediating trusted agent are separate modules, see Mao, Figure 2.

Conclusion

12. Applicant's amendment (paper #14) necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL.

See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
